DIOCESAN PASTORAL PLAN:

Last weekend Bishop Steve released the Diocesan Pastoral Plan. Full details are available via a link on our website in the Latest News section. Please avail yourself of the ability to read and engage in the plan for our future. Key points:

SIGNPOSTS:

The vision sets our direction as a Diocese for the next five years. Along the way we will be guided by a signpost for each year.

2021: Companioning

2022: Facilitating Encounter with Christ

2023: Mission & Outreach

2024: Partnerships - Mana Ōrite

2025: Empowering People

In our communities we often encounter people who have yet to grasp the significance of the faith or Christ's presence in their lives. We often find them clouded wanting something, be it a sacrament or preference certificate, when they have fears, difficulties, are conflicted with a faith issue, when something in their life has been shattered, when they are searching, lost or had some spiritual experience. In the Gospels Jesus shows us that companioning is about patiently entering into their story and then patiently and gently sharing our story. It is about enkindling in others and in ourselves the presence and fire of the Holy Spirit.

We are not alone in wanting to companion others through life. There are many other voices that want to shape and direct. Some of these can be distracting, negative or even destructive. These other "companions" can uproot people from family, culture and faith practice leaving them spiritual nomads, unable to root themselves in the basic relationships with God, others, self and creation for which the human person is created. As such growth is stunted.

As the risen Christ promised that he would be with us always, to the end of time, so too the companioning that the Church offers must be seen as a lifetime endeavour. It needs to be coordinated and integrated rather than fragmented.
It should draw on the riches of family, school, parish, groups, community and the universal Church together to assist the entire people of God in the hikoī of faith.
As such the community as a whole has the task of companioning, a companioning that accepts, motivates, encourages and challenges and ultimately leads to full and active participation in the Eucharist as the source and summit of the Christian life.
